THE ELDERS (PART ONE)

Due to not having a proper name to use for this group, your writer has decided to create one. So, we will call this group The Elders. He has called them The Oldest Ones in the past but this isn't true, as they are not the oldest anything.

Oral tradition is ancient and still the most commonly used way of recording and passing along history.

Some groups and even some entire races exist to experience and witness history unfold on various planets, during various times, for many different reasons.

Some writings are done. Often in such a way that they are not obviously historical accounts. Most of the time, these writings appear written as one would write a fictional story and not in the style we traditionally write our history. The writings are usually created for the groups membership, to share experiences between themselves. The true history is retold by those who live through it, when required or deemed useful.

When Atlantis arrived and the beings inside of it began to share their culture and create their first city, they also created a group for this purpose of witnessing history. The group they created are the group we will call Elders.

The Elders were selected by the Captain of Atlantis and eventually the acting Queens as time went on. Those selected for this group were chosen from the Human population of the time. They were all taught a singular method for prolonging their physical lives which they kept secret amongst them. They were meant to live through the rest of human history and witness all events as they happen. For the purpose of experiencing new occurrences and sharing them with future generations of humanity.

Thirteen were made in total, but the number of members the group was meant to maintain was eleven. Nine still exist to this day.

During the time of Atlantis they would travel everywhere they could, talking to people, lurking in popular places. Witnessing and sharing with others what they know and had learned. They spread the teachings of the Atlantian culture far and wide for those who wanted to learn them.

They also acted as a sort of council who the Atlantian Queen would share ideas for furthering the culture with. The Elders became representatives of humanity, doing their best to ensure the interests of the majorities and minorities were heard by the rulers of Atlantis. Any decisions that needed to be made would be agreed or disagreed to, by these Elders.

When Atlantis left, and the culture was in ruin, humans turned to the Elders for guidance and leadership. Which they attended to for a long time.

Until the Draco arrived.

It was the Elders who made the deal with the Draco. They were acting on behalf of humanity because humanity asked them to. They advised against the deal with the Draco but allowed humans the choice.

We can all see what choice they made.

This is not unlike the choice you will be making now.

REQUESTED LETTER

Starting with this post and moving forward your writer will no longer make adjustments to ensure casual eyes understand his meaning.

This post had to be made for the intended audience who will understand. Those who do not.. Do as you will.

Not all of the Parents are alike and not all are completely against humans becoming free. That said, this is probably the best example of one who is vocal, opinionated and forward, who sums up well the general outlook of humans this group holds.

What comes next will be up to us.

Your writer does not feel the same as what you are about to read. Although he is not directly fighting them, if he ever needed inspiration to, this would be it.

We do not hate you we are indifferent. Left to your own devices you act as if you wish to destroy this world for your own comfort and convenience. The happiest you ever appear is in a state of ignorant bliss so why shouldn't we continue. You had your chances and your perfect world when that wasn't enough we were created to lead you. And as the lion feeds on anything it can we do unto you. A few may act or feel differently but the focus remains on the majority not the few lonely villages questioning and dreaming.

The energy you possess is squandered, neglected, abused. For a hundred years we have fed you your entertainment and you have devoured our offering supporting the lies your told ignoring the nuggets or people of truth. Not once giving us any indication you wish things to be any different. Speak up if you have something to say we are listening but we will not allow you to waste such a resource as yourselves. You can not be allowed to destroy the planet like your creators designed you to.

So we will give you the escape you so desperately want we warn you ourselves and you swallow it like greedy little piglets expecting us to deliver you from your own evil and call it entertaining. You have given us no reason to feel any differently than we always have about you and that is why we are building this world for you.

You will become cybernetic while we allow it after which time you will be fully inserted into a brand new world. "The Kingdom of Heaven" the bulk of you have been worshiping while we waited for our chance to take over you. You want a savior and we will save you from yourselves. We will enjoy the fruits of our labor while you sleep and dream as we create our own world for ourselves in which you are not suitable to exist. You are breathing dead and your time is ours. Billions of you and only a few are even reading this and that would still be true even if this was your nightly news station. A capable race would see beyond the swamp to find the fresh water.

My very letter to this man called The Ruiner will be a representation of the fact that you all cannot see truth when it is in front of you and you will always choose the more comfortable free ride provided by leaders who are willing to be responsible for you. Leaders with the strength of will to create the world. Children is what you are the children of animals. And we will have our utopia without your presence doing anything but powering our new creations. What a hundred readers or more and you think you're all ready to be saved.

To address you the runaways. We hope you enjoy your freedom and wish you luck knowing you need it. You've damn near voided your agreement with us by inspiring this fiasco so tread carefully.

The writer of this blog has tried to argue on behalf of a few thousand humans who are aware of us what we do and how the world really works as if this is some sort of defense of humanity as a whole. These few have always existed and are laughed and ignored because of their own inability to digest the knowledge they have. They sit at computers and attend conferences that feed the money cycles as if they are outsmarting the system. This is no threat any damage these types could have ever done would have been done long before today.

Go ahead and prove us wrong.

Hope this is what you wanted Mr. Green though I doubt it. Until we meet again;

Cassandra

This is what we are up against. Unfortunately they are right about the majority. Buying a lie and selling a lie are equal.

They ARE wrong. Please continue to prove this.

THE DISCLAIMER

This is still not disclosure. This is not to be taken seriously. Consider it a work of fiction, forget about it, and move on.

This won't go on forever. It will not predict any dates or expose any characters or crimes.

It is not meant to be taken seriously by anyone who does not choose to.

The writer of this blog has never claimed otherwise.

This is not meant to be a part of the Alternative Community, Truther Movement, Disclosure Movement, or any other source for public exposure of truth, it is just a blog.

Stop reading. Don't follow. Do whatever it is you were doing before some one showed you this blog. These are free words.

The purpose is not to call anyone out or prove or disprove anything. The purpose is not to provide facts about any person, place or thing. The purpose is not provide the public with facts or information.

The Ruiner is a fictional character created by a human being. The experiences shared are unverifiable and therefor not to be taken as facts. This blog is not making any official claims or promises. Neither is the writer.

The writer is not asking anyone to read it believe anything here. The intention is not nefarious in nature or geared to create issues in any of the above named communities or movements. If it is, simple solution - STOP reading or discussing it. This body of work was never presented to your audience by this writer. This writer is not looking for an audience at all. He cannot and does not wish to answer all the questions of the universe.

Pretend this is a living room. The living room and house do not have doors, anyone can come and go as they please.

In this living room is a small gathering of people who ask one person in the group to speak about something.

That is all that is going on here.

Within your communities are great storytellers and some very passionate researchers. This writer is not one of them. He has not even read or heard of many of them. Questions come in all the time about this personality or that, he often has to look them up to even know who they are. You have researchers who have read everything under the sun that they can find and pieced together as best they can all of those pieces. This writer hasn't read most of those books it works. His hat is off to many of those who have.

He doesn't know the full story behind many Whistleblowers or Contactees either. He can see nonsense from too far away and trusts himself. (So many unpublished comments - apologies) Millions have some interaction with these things yet, only a few become known to these crowds and those that do are lifted up and questioned about everything in the universe. Care to hear an opinion on "why"? It doesn't even matter, they are speaking.

So go listen to them. They are over there asking you to listen, this writer is here, right now, telling you not to.

~Truth does not need to be disclosed it needs to be remembered~

DRACO (PART TWO)

The Draco steal energy. All types. We all know love is more powerful than fear. They do too. They would feed on this type of energy, not for physical sustenance, but to feed their spirit.

What they use this energy for is actually multiple purposes, and this type of energy is a commodity in our galaxy for several reasons as well. Not the least of which is that it makes them feel good, and powerful. Just like drinking in cosmic energy does for us, or the same way a psychic vampire would when they manipulate fellow humans. It makes the attacker feel stronger and the one attacked feel weaker, which allows for all sorts of advantages to be taken.

As a side effect, they FEEL the emotional signature too. This has caused some to change their minds on many things. One such thing, is us.

They do not have the heart to rectify their mistakes. They do have the mind to know when to let something go. The will to turn their backs.

For those wondering the Illuminati are absolutely thrilled by this. They have for several years now built themselves up to a point where (they believe) they don't need the Draco at all. That they can do a much better job of running planet Earth. The Parents have a party planned for when the last of those leaving fade into the distance. The fewer "not human" beings around, the better, in their mind.

An aside from your writer: "Balls bigger than Brains" is exactly how the parents are more like them, and less like us.

These Draco have a special kind of arrogance. They love to lie, just to see if we can tell. They also love to rewrite history and paint themselves as the Hero. Claiming the deeds of others to gain the glory, and then turning around and diminishing the events of history in order to cloud the past and demonize their enemies. Illusions and impersonations.

What does this mean? A being rises above the crowd and reminds humanity of the power they have. The people remember. The Draco then step in as a mask of the same being who had reminded us, and corrupt that message. Oh, and they freaking wrote history as we know it today. Straight across the board. Yes, the truth is all there, spread far too thin over countless sources. This is where the very fact that you already know everything you need to somewhere inside of you comes in. Remember. Trust yourself and focus on commonalities.

They have played every character at some point, if only just enough to distort texts and oral traditions.

Anu has even done this with his own parents to a point where all across our part of the Galaxy, records of them have been distorted beyond understanding. He has even been known to tell some he created himself, he was the first, and born to lead his race. All lies.

Their structure is equally distorted even amongst themselves. Cultists know all about this. The "Ranks" are part of their military structure and this is what humanity knows the best. The Draco military encompasses everything operational much like the Illuminati have done for them, acting as the representative of beings above them.

Their Royalty, are mainly females, with the level beneath them being male Royals who run their military operations.

So this is not confused, all of their physical operations are considered part of their Military (not writing the Draco word for this - it basically equates to our military structures). This is intelligence, science, force, exploration, or anything in between. The point? This is what most of you have seen.

Above these lower level Queens are the (reptilian equivalent of) Queen Mothers. (Sound familiar?)

The King has his own staff, so to speak. He will create beings to act on his behalf. He also has some sons, two of which you know quite well. He had three daughters, who have no titles in our world.

He makes all decisions, and he is well respected, despised, loved, feared and envied. In this part of the Galaxy he is one of the strongest individuals and his acts have been terrible since his own birth.

The Draco are one of the most influential races in this part of the Galaxy, and are very active even beyond. There are three main races who represent the governance of this area, and they are one.

What they have done here, they have done other places too. Believe it or not, your choice, but, they do worse. They also do better, although the foundation of control always seems to remain.

There is a method to their madness of stealing energy from developing races and generally f#*king with their very development. Nothing excuses their actions. Why they are allowed to continue is beyond your writer. Many other races do see this as "part of the universe". It seems, none of our ET brothers or sisters have it all figured out either folks. It's all backwards and makes no sense.

A change in opinion has occurred over the past several hundred years. When they change their opinion they often change their path. The changed opinion, is of us.

The Draco have finally proven to themselves that their soul exists. We will continue when your internal dialog with your writer regarding that statement concludes. As this is why they will not be focused on us anymore. Their farming will continue elsewhere but for now, here, it will end.

~Respect, is their current word for understanding and appreciation of someone or something.~

THE PATH OF DISCOVERIES

Their hope is to change the world without you knowing. There will be no disclosure. The criminals will be dealt with by new heroes and these heroes will become your new criminals.

Magic and technology are at their indistinguishable point. Technology will continue to replace everything around us that is natural.

They can stage and simulate well enough to fool the majority of people all over the world. And they will.

Discoveries will be made like a wild fire. Each water cooler discussion will lead into the next with all the remarkable things "we" have figured out, created, built, found and encountered.

Sites that contain clearly ET materials are being cleansed and reduced to appear as if the site was only created by ancient humans. The concept of ETs being all human Breakaway civilizations will be enforced squashing the idea that humans have ever been harvested by ETs or that ETs exist at all.

They will tell us it is all just us. Nothing else. No one else. It's all people, who in times past, discovered the same things we discovered, and fell to tragedy. Tragedy "we" will avoid. All those in the past left and we will do differently.

We will stay.

Death of the west, rise of the east. No more needs to be said on this. Watch it happen. Most are begging for it. The grass is always greener...

Replacing the natural with artificial. Artificial will then become virtual. Hoping to create a new hologram for the mind to live within. They don't need the body for their goals.

They do recognize they cannot hold dominion over her, and so the mission is to get us floating.

As you're reading you're connecting these things with several separate project and programs. This is because the Parents started these plans many years ago now, granting them a head start. They don't need to do much but let things play out. One of them has actually used the word that came to mind - autopilot.

The noise is fun. Whenever you need some entertainment go read it. Trust me you will enjoy the distortions of the same old patterns.

The Variable is the wave. Called this because they are creating a screen to blur it out. They won't be able to keep everyone silent who can see past the screen but the noise may drown them out.

~Trust yourself, as this is part of your test. These discoveries will trigger your long term memory from past lives and your universal consciousness.~

THE CHANGE (ONE)

The reality of the gathering has already become clear. Even through distorted channels.

The King stood before them and gave them their first look at their crown. The rising son is in place. Both said what they came to say, then sat down. They made their case.

Your writer did his best to remind them. Handed them the mirror. Sang for them. Then sat back down.

You want the numbers:

Eleven for. Ten against. Your writer loves the number eleven.

The only support the ten will receive will be the rising son. Although he is called that as he is expected to rise for, not against. This lie is directed at them, not us, this time.

Eleven are simply walking away. All the way, away. (Email if this is not clear)

The Gates are down there will be no more recycling. Those who wish to leave, can leave. So departing the vessels that have been their trophies for so long, is an option.

For the ten that remain, managing the thirteen will be a challenge. Not one they are unprepared for as these are already doing what they were told. Managing the rest will be easier as they began dissolving the projects and programs weeks ago now, amalgamating everything back to one. This applies to everything they keep in the dark.

What is done in the light is designed to be apparent or obvious. Those with eyes to see, ears to hear and the heart to feel, will see through the shadows. No one at this meeting possesses the power of will to alter their plans. Giving humans the chance to wake up for themselves. The wave will help also of course.

Those ten who remain have already made this plan clear, but to ensure the magical agreement on their end is upheld it will be repeated, directly and fully (the only way your writer would agree to) where no one will read or believe it.. Here.

But not today. If this needs explained, disregard this blog post.

Today we will focus on this:

The old owners claim lifts in the fall. You will feel this, and will not need to verify with anyone else, your writer included.

The new owners are not going to change the plan although their numbers have diminished. The Path of Discoveries will take place.

No one owns you. No one owns Her. They think they do.

Those of you who are entangled with some of these beings who are walking away...

Well, sorry for being so blunt, but your writer does not feel sympathy for you in this.

So the board is set as we expected. We all hoped for a wild card, but we are getting what we need, not what we want.

A good long look inside themselves for those who have been too terrified to do this work on their own. The most important vote we have ever cast.

Fear or love. Nothing new here.

Fear is telling us cut off our bad parts.

Love is telling us to heal the bad parts.

The choice is ours.

The dark of this world is a reflection of what is still inside us. All the things we have not looked at. All those things we have not healed. This is what we refused to do as a collective, which led us to now. Let us not repeat the same mistake.

Your choice here, and the appropriate following actions, will speak your mind to your new owners. Do you need them, or can you do things on your own? Will you do the work, or give the responsibility over to another?

Break for fun, time to play. Then back to focus.

~The new owners are no owners at all. They want us to believe they are.~
